BESPOKE IS OUR STANDARD

Ridgeway manufacture a range of washroom cubicles from a variety of materials and for a multitude of market sectors, from prisons to five star hotels. Some of our most popular specifications are detailed below:

System 2000

Our most impressive system, and perfectly suited to prestigious hotels and restaurants, and top health clubs and spas.

With a fully framed body and elegantly curved aluminium profiles, this range is as stylish as it is strong. Available in a wide choice of colours, we consider System 2000 to be one of the most versatile and flexible systems on the market.

System 1000 Leisure

This system is specifically designed for the leisure market, and is able to cope with high volumes of users. This is our most robust range, able to withstand even the most demanding situations, and is successfully installed in many swimming pools and leisure centres throughout the UK.

The system comprises a series of extrusions which completely encase the compact laminate panels - with 50mm diameter extruded alloy posts, and a heavy duty aluminium headrail. The doors are hung in a full length extruded hinge section which pivots on a stainless steel and nickel bronze bearing.

System 1000

A flexible aluminium system delivering outstanding durability and functionality, whilst retaining a modern and minimalist style.

This range combines slim line pilasters which completely frame the partition and support the hinges and strike plates – minimising any stresses on the unit. A superior strength hinge design ensures rigidity of structure and is complemented by hidden door fixings.

IPS Systems

BESPOKE IS OUR STANDARD

Ridgeway has supplied IPS (Integrated Plumbing System) sanitaryware units for over 20 years. We have gained considerable industry knowledge and expertise which enables us to advise and support our customers through the specification process from minor refurbishments, through to major new builds.

Unlike many “one size fits all” solutions, Ridgeway IPS panels are bespoke to your exact requirements. They combine style with outstanding strength and rigidity and are suitable for use in high traffic areas. Ridgeway IPS panels not only provide a practical and attractive solution to concealing WC and urinal cisterns and associated pipework, but also complete the washroom look and feel. The sleek clean lines and contemporary design mean no fixings are visible from the exterior of the panels once installed.

Vanity Units
